*No one besides yourself may proofread the writing/essay preparation draft(s). AI tools may be used for assistance, but all ideas and analysis must be your own.

Topic: In your own words and from your perspective, write an analysis on a topic related to “Space/High/New Technology” or “High-speed Rail.” Make sure your writing includes at least 4 of the sentence patterns listed below.

据/根据~; 实现~; 实行~; 不仅~也/而且/还~; 此外~; 标志着~; 继~之后; 发挥~作用;
其~; 取决于~

Grading Rubric:

- 1) 4个语法点 are used accurately and appropriately: each pattern is worth 1 point, 共4分. Underline the 4 different 语法点 you applied.
- 2) Your Analysis: is compelling and insightful (from various angles/aspects) [3], well-grounded with specific details to support and explain [4]. Viewpoints are expressed effectively, clearly, and concisely with no repetitive segments. [3], 共10分
- 3) Sentence Fluency: Logically organized with appropriate transitions and well-structured. 2分
- 4) Word Choice: Accurately & consistently integrated a substantial amount of previously learned vocabulary (besides the ones listed above) and grammar points in class into the writing and goes beyond the simple words to find one more accurate, precise, effective, and suitable for advanced-level quality writing (with little repetition) to make the analysis compelling, formal, and sophisticated., 4分
- 5) There is a 0.2-point deduction for each 错字 and punctuation error.

Please note: Analyses must present your own ideas and insights. Using only excerpts from articles, course materials, or others' work without your own analysis is not acceptable. Proper citation is required when referencing others' ideas, but citations cannot replace your original content and will receive no credit. Reusing content you have previously written may also result in a score of zero.

*Up to 3 points will be docked if less than the 100 个中文字, the minimum requirement.
